WALT explore what makes someone exceptional.

For values this week, we will be looking at what makes someone excellent or exceptional.

To begin with, we would like you to watch this video:

If you would like a more motivational one, you could also watch this video:

Then, we would like you to pick someone who is excellent in their field. This could be a musician, a professional athlete, entrepreneur or anyone who you think displays excellence.

We then want you to explain to us why you think that person is exceptional. What traits/ characteristics do they have which helps them be excellent? You then need to create a poster or a factfile about this person and why they are excellent.
